April 2014

Vol. IX - No. 4

MISSION STATEMENT: To enhance the quality of life and promote a harmonious community through the timely publication of accurate information about residents, events, and activities in and around Symphony Village.

MUSINGS FROM THE BOARD

We survived winter—spring is here; and it is almost time for us to think about IRRIGATION—the source of the largest number of complaints to Management during the year is irrigation. This is an effort to give you a better understanding of how the system works here in Symphony Village.

We have 5 separate pump stations (wells) dedicated to specific areas of the community that, if necessary (but with some degree of difficulty), can be crossed over from one area to another. The irrigation system has an estimated 10 miles of underground pipe with over 4,000 lawn sprinkler heads and over 1,200 flower bed sprinkler heads. Houses are irrigated by zones of which there are approximately 136 (more will be added as the community continues to grow). The pumps at any given time can only service so many sprinkler heads before they lose pressure and put out only a trickle of water. The number of lawns that can be irrigated at one time is less than the number of flower beds solely based on the number of sprinkler heads. We have budgeted $47,000 this year for repairs to the system and expect to use every penny. When a new house is constructed and the irrigation system is installed, the current landscape contractor has to sign off on the installation attesting that they are accepting it and adding it to the system.

When the community is irrigated depends on a variety of factors. It has been determined that we get the best value for the water applied if we irrigate at night (less evaporation). For those who feel that the system isn't working when it is supposed to, it is suggested that you place a popsicle stick on top of one or two sprinkler heads and check to see if it has moved in the morning. The system has a rain gauge that, if enough rain falls, will bypass the controls and not allow for a scheduled irrigation. Every effort is made to adhere to the published schedule. We are allowed by the State to use up to 12 million gallons of water for irrigation each year. Last year, thanks to the weather, we did not use as much water as in previous years and stayed under the allotted amount. If we exceed the allotted amount, we are susceptible to stiff fines from the Department of Natural Resources. When the community is completely developed, we will need to petition the State for a larger water allotment. We are constantly trying to improve on the efficiency of the system. For the past several years, in early May, volunteers have walked through the community to assure that all the sprinkler heads are working properly. This endeavor takes several days. In some cases to avoid over watering, we have turned off some of the sprinkler heads between the houses. When possible, for larger areas, we (at our expense) have replaced sprinkler heads with more efficient ones.

SV Google Group

Thanks to all who have joined the Google Group and even posted. Many of you received invitations and may still accept those invites. Feel free to email me if you wish to join. You can click on the "Symphony Village Group" from the Daily Bulletin page. The advantage of this is that you can post questions and answers about SV. Social Events will also be posted. It is not necessary to create a profile. You can change how you wish to receive emails (check "My Settings" on the SV Group page).

I am still looking for a co-manager. Call me (Carol Hodges at 410-758-0591).

Just a reminder that the Libretto hard copies available in the Clubhouse are for those who are unable to access the internet. FYI: There is a binder in the Wall Street Room that contains all Librettos for the last 12 months.

Thanks for Articles

Our Committee wants to thank all of the residents who have written articles for the Libretto. Articles are always welcome: restaurant reviews, travel articles, recipes, etc. Continue your input. If you are reluctant to write an article, but would like to have input, we can interview you and write it for you.

GARDEN CLUB – Jack Hennessey

Steve Guy has sent an email to all current members of the Garden Club calling for a meeting at the Gazebo on Saturday, April 26, to clean all garden plots and to plan for the coming year. However, there are 20 separate plots, and we have only 15 active members. All residents are invited to contact Steve or Jack if you are willing to be a caretaker for one plot. You can also contact a friend to be a “Team Gardener.” This also makes the gardening more fun! Helena Joy, Jack, and Joan have already cleared their plots since they will be away on April 26. As usual, we will work with Management on mulching the beds and will get some financial help from Dennis to purchase new flowers for the Gazebo Garden. We are particularly anxious to have the beds looking great for the Memorial Day Picnic. Over the past seven years, we have installed five purple martin houses in SV with varying degrees of success. About April 1, we saw the advance scouts for the martins. Our Easton consultant saw his scouts on March 25; so we hope we will have a martin (not Martian!) invasion by the time you read this report.*

Dave Peterson has tilled the Victory Garden. We have room for one or two hard-working gardeners. Jack has already planted radishes. Other hardy crops will be planted in April. In early May, we will be planting tomatoes and squash—our favorite products. As usual, our residents will share in our plentiful bounty.

*FLASH 4/12: The martins have arrived at the Gazebo Garden martin house. Welcome back!

JOY OF MUSIC – Eleanor Strietman

Please join us at the Clubhouse Grand Ballroom for the last two sessions of the Joy of Music on Monday, April 28 and May 12. The topics promise to be interesting as always and will be announced shortly before the next session. Each session costs $5 and lasts one hour. Hope to see you there.

READING FOR FUN BOOK CLUB – Jack Hennessey

The book for our March meeting was We Are Water by Wally Lamb. This book was recommended by Lee Ettman and received a rating of 7.22 on a scale of 1 to 10. The story revolves around a female artist, Annie Oh, and her psychologist husband, Orion Oh. After 27 years of marriage and three children, Annie decides to marry her female sponsor, Viveca. Annie, her husband, and her three children all have differing perspectives on the upcoming nuptials. The novel's chapters are narrated in the first person by each of these characters. The narrative discusses gay marriage, divorce, racism, alcoholism, artistic expression, and a few other topics. How the story ends is subject to interpretation—Jack has his own version.

The book for our May 20 meeting was to be Zelda by Ericka Roebuck. However, Ericka is not able to attend the May meeting. Members will be contacted by phone regarding the new selection. We will try to have Ericka attend a future meeting to discuss her book. Incidentally, Ericka is a local author who attended a previous meeting. She now has a third novel which we may consider for a fall meeting. However, each month a different club member gets to nominate a favorite book.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

The best of times during the worst of times... and I am still in awe of the incredible community support in Symphony Village. My son and daughter-in-law were amazed at the food, flowers, cards, calls, and visits that came to my home nonstop. I still have trouble eating, but they were delighted with the meals. Many people remember Bill as a fun guy. That gives me great happiness because I seemed to have misplaced my sense of humor those last couple of weeks. If prayers alone count, Bill is sitting at the right hand of God this minute... There will never be an appropriate way to thank everyone and even more scary is the thought of missing someone.

Thank you! Thank you! Let's hope I can pay this forward.

Ponds 1 and 2 are Blooming

Hoorah!! Daffodils around ponds 1 and 2 are blooming! What a delight after the long hard winter. Okay, 2000 bulbs don't go as far as one might think—not the sea of yellow we envisioned, but it's a welcome start. Cass Smith and her crews should be very proud. What a great way to WELCOME SPRING.

Bocce Ball Court & Horseshoe Pit

It looks like spring is finally coming to Symphony Village and with that comes thoughts of outside activities like softball, golf, and tennis.

But did you know... we also have three newly carpeted Bocce courts and two nice Horseshoe Pits? Get your friends and family together and come up and play! If you are interested in playing regularly, please sign up in the Activities Book at the Clubhouse and indicate what days and times are best for you. The Market will be open on Wednesdays, 3 – 7 p.m. and on Saturdays, 9 a.m. – 1 p.m. On Wednesdays, shoppers can park for free in the town parking lot, and there will be three reserved parking spots on Commerce Street for shoppers. The market will be open through October 25. The Shoppers’ Loyalty Card returns this year, and you may pick one up at Town Hall or from any of the market vendors. Shoppers will get their cards punched at every market day they shop. After completing the 10-punch card, shoppers turn their cards in for drawings for market vouchers. Two drawings will take place: one in July and one in October.

This market season will include a series of activities and programming organized by a new volunteer group called the “Healthy Living Series.” Most events will take place the last Saturday of each month, with selected events on Wednesdays. Topics include: blood pressure screenings; canning; healthy eating; food storage and safety; “Meet Your Farmers’ Market Vendors;” composting; and Kids Day at the market. A complete schedule will be available at the market and at Town Hall. Many vendors are returning, and there are new vendors who will feature artisan breads, blue crabs, gluten-free baked goods, and freshly-ground flour.

TRAVEL... THE CALIFORNIA COAST

by Brenda Stoltz

My daughter, Laura, and I started taking mother/daughter trips on significant birthdays. One of our trips was down the coast of California from San Francisco to Los Angeles in February. The trip began with a three-night stay in San Francisco. We toured the city on foot, by boat, by bus, and in cable cars—visiting China Town, The Wharf, Alcatraz, and the Golden Gate Bridge Area. We also took side trips to John Muir Woods (redwood forests) and Yosemite National Park (giant sequoias, mountains, and waterfalls). Visiting Yosemite during winter months means you should be prepared for snow. We found ourselves skiing down small hills without skis many times. Fortunately, we always missed skiing into any of the “big” trees. From San Francisco, we rented a car and drove south on US 1, taking the scenic 17-mile drive along Pebble Beach, headed for Monterey Bay. Along the way, we enjoyed the wonderful coastline as well as the famous wineries.

(Half Dome in Yosemite Valley)

Monterey is a beautiful city—home to Stanford University and the Monterey Aquarium. (While visiting this Aquarium in the early 90s with a group of fellow volunteers from the Baltimore Aquarium, I heard an interesting story. It seems two Stanford marine biology doctoral students told their parents they wanted to live in Monterey after graduation, but there was no place for them to work. No problem, their parents had the Monterey Aquarium built for them. (Their last names are Hewlett and Packard.) It is a fantastic aquarium and well worth a visit.

Continuing on down Scenic Highway One along the Big Sur, the views were lovely so we made frequent stops. At our stop in Pacific Grove, we were fascinated to see the last of the monarch butterflies taking flight from the trees in the Monarch Grove Sanctuary. Tired but content, we arrived at our motel in San Simeon just in time to watch the golden sun setting over the ocean.

Our visit to the Hearst Castle the next morning was beyond our expectations. The tour guides made the Castle's heydays come alive, and the furnishings and paintings inside were as beautiful as the statues and gardens outside. Because Hearst donated most of his land to the state of California, the breathtaking coastline is sparsely populated and unspoiled. San Simeon's Piedras Blancas beach is one of those unspoiled spots, where Elephant Seals have been gathering for years during February. Female seals were feeding their calves, seal couples were mating, while others were diving into the ocean surf—definitely a stop not to be missed. Fortunately, guides were available to answer questions because we had plenty of questions.

Traveling on to Santa Monica, we had to drive Rt. 23 part of the way through winding canyons (not fun in the dark), but we made it. After checking into our hotel, we walked to an Irish Pub for dinner. This turned out to be a lucky choice because this pub was popular with some of the movie stars living nearby. David Bernie* ate dinner at the table next to us, and Keanu Reeves** was having a good time mixing with folks at the bar. We didn't bother asking for autographs—we just enjoyed the moment. While in Santa Monica, we took a fun tour of Universal Studios and the Los Angeles area. We ended our trip relaxing for two days at the Channel Road Inn—a lovely B & B on the ocean just outside of LA. All too soon, it was time to get on the plane and fly home—no time for Disney Land. Of course, on the plane we had plenty of time to start planning where we would go next, knowing there was so much more to discover in this beautiful country we live in.      \(Bridget Loves Bernie)    ** (The Matrix series)*

RECIPE OF THE MONTH      from the kitchen of Brenda Stoltz

Crispy Baked Asparagus Fries

- 1 pound asparagus, trimmed
- 1/2 cup flour
- 2 eggs, lightly beaten
- 3/4 cup panko breadcrumbs
- 1/4 cup grated parmesan
- salt and pepper to taste

Dredge the asparagus in the flour, dip them in the egg, and then dip them into a mixture of the panko breadcrumbs, parmesan, salt and pepper. Place the asparagus on a wire rack on a baking sheet and bake in a preheated 425 degree oven until golden brown, about 7-13 minutes.
